Function 615 10 mV T (e) 20 ys Figure 13.35-Continued has slightly less peak overshoot (measured from the final value shown in part a. The difference reflects the 5° phase-margin advantage of the slow-rolloff system. The tail is unaltered by the additional pole. The experimentally measured step response of the system with one-pole compensation is shown in Fig. 13.37 for a number of values of the R 1-C 1 time constant. The deterioration of stability and settling time that results as R 1/C 1 is increased is clearly evident in this sequence. The value for natural frequency predicted by Eqn. 13.57 can be verified to within experimental tolerances. However, the actual system is actually somewhat better damped than the analysis indicates, particularly in the relatively lower-damped cases. The unit-step response for a second-order system is  $v(t) = [1 - e^{-\zeta\omega_n t} \sin(\omega_n \sqrt{1 - \zeta^2} t)]$  where
